

Explanation Vol. 1.1 of Dreams in the Awake
State/Message from an Angel and ET

Rebecca Sousie

2023

I'm here aware that I have entertained a muse, an angel, or maybe an ET. To me it is something of another source. I ask myself these times: is this a good Angel or a bad angel? I am not so afraid but rather ignorant and knowing at times. Here I will give the message it has sent to me.

"I am at a Crest now. in front of me stands a crest with two swords crossed on a shield. I've heeded my task and now Providence has parted in two ways. So vexed, I must go back to being in the Box.

What box am I referring to? Let me tell you of another day not so long ago.

"That day, I found an empty chair entertaining and Angel of sorts! I guess it may have been an angel since I work with angels though I myself, may think of it as an ET. do to the energy it has given. Maybe, just maybe, an Angel and an ET presence was here.

So far that much is true. I know in my senses That I have been caught up in a moment. It is a bit of a Pandora's Box. A good angel is a temporary light being of what we call a temporal impression. we've all been burnt by something good. We all have a high moment that we can recall. An Angel, a good angel, is closely related to this in my experience. I have used the word burnt because at times it takes consequences of learning something is hot by touching it. A good experience is the same as a bad experience in this way. Both of them leave a mark.

And entertainment of thought that if any man or woman would enter my space would or will I feel or will my feelings be negated? Do angels or ETS bring us out of control from our normal senses and destinies? That is what I am trying to have you understand and question from your own internal intuition. For me it feels like a cloud of thought, possibly Shadows was a good word for it though I have lately thought of it as a temporal impression. something temporary and leaves a pattern of thought outside of what I normally experience.

This barbaric chopping of words is the best I can do to explain an angel or ET presence giving message messages to me. Maybe it is a guardian angel or ET but either way it is filling a thirst for more knowledge than I already know in the house of my body and the river of intuition.

Here is the message: my inner alignment fluxes and fluctuates in power and energy as it emits from my porous being. I am speaking in the first person as if the angel or ET is telling me as an affirmation that I must speak aloud. though I am in a different state. What do you think I have said?

Is this message going to be virtuous and hold any purity of power for listeners? I am hoping so. I do not think it is just for me then. I wonder if my guardian angel or 18 is talking to your guardian angel or ET. Sometimes I think in this instance where I am speaking my affirmations, that you are hearing my side because I am more in tune with my alignment Within Me. You then are learning.

Do you Misrepresent your, or better yet I think, are you blocking messages from my guardian angel that are being sent to your guardian angel? Why would that be a problem? why are you listening in the first place then did it make you talk about it?

So then if writing is a skill, where does it come from? could it be a guardian angel, an ET or just an angel in general? What do you think about being taken away from your normal activity? When you watch a movie for example. Or, when you hold yourself with another being taking vows? Knowing that both of these are adventures and travels.

Sometimes I like to ask why some Muses Angels or ETS are better than others. Sometimes I wonder where they project their light. I call this process being a witness. And eyewitnesses. can you see them in your dream state when you see them in your dream state I mean.

Some soft talk will get you through that. They say there are rules for adjectives and writing and speaking and if these rules are broken you sound crazy. Some people frequently enter dream states. as where this message is coming from. What makes that difficult?

Trying to relay a message from dream states will be difficult. Depending on how many dreams we already know. Are those that can't keep up with the fluctuating between dream state and wake state. There are people who control when they go into dream states.

Do you call the dream state a state of demonic activity only? meaning is it harming you in any way? I have heard of people trying to meditate themselves into different projections and being harmed in such Acts. it is possible that their understanding of Dreams was not whole enough to go through that experience. Henceforth this message should lie out more groundwork or building upon others' work for what dream experiences hold.

Is consciousness trying to align you into understanding and balance? Would you let that happen if it meant helping those who naturally Flex between dream and awake States because socially it is difficult for them speaking of people that are bipolar and schizophrenic. Any state of manic or suicidal States are States I'm dreaming that entertain muses, angels, guardian angels, and ets.

Who should be first in speaking about duality? Is it really a problem? Is it inherently witchcraft? Some have blanketed its purpose. That could be a problem. Some flux, some say dreams. Either way a good believer of daytime words can put an evil spin on dreams. This may cause a flexor to flux out of line with its creator and stumble. That is because some people are sensitive to Energies and some people believe they hold the staff two Energies. someone like a schizophrenic or Bipolar person or someone who is suicidal or manic May believe that in reality they have spirits around them. and it is overwhelming so they do not even speak of the spirits until confronted but it is better to not talk about the spirits because they get worked up about the spirits they are trying to listen to when confronted. I will explain this a little more. They are just experiencing dreams.

Some people are on the offense when they see people or hear people talking about dreams. I'm not exactly sure why. But a flux and energy for the dreamer is something for them to deal with. If it's either controlled or uncontrolled. The dream will run its course because what dreams do is run their course. if that dream energy is left alone it will but a strong willed energetic spiritual person can set fire to that energy state.

This is a question of common ground. Unfortunately people in dream states are leading by example rather than speaking up for themselves. Does this make sense? I'm trying to tell you that you should be careful what you tell a dream Luxor to believe. You've Got to Believe In The Common Ground and that God has the dream or your higher power or the course itself or just because it is a dream is going to run its course as long as the dreamer is on course. You can tell by the common ground. showing positivity and intuition. You intuitively know what basic fruit bearing is in life and if the dreamer is not showing these then yes, some ground must be made.

Trying to add a course correction to a dreamer could result in loss of life will, or belief in God, or Landing them in an unhealthy waking state. What I say is that we are learning that waking a person from sleepwalking arms both the dreamer and the awake person. And this is referring to people in Mania people in suicide ideation, bipolar, schizophrenics and anyone who refers to dreams. there is a direct correlation.

Both States should be acknowledged for any mature person, or couple who work together. one, I cannot stress enough, and a complete Partnership of two cannot disbelieve even, not even one. Because one person can set a dreamer of course. A person meaning a dream is in a covenant contract with the guardian of all dreams the guardian of all covenants and the Creator. This is part of the Common Ground some people do not get to. Please don't please don't mess with another person's contract. A contract will allow that person to know things. And to live out their life purpose.

I cannot imagine how many people begin in these states without common ground and end up in jail overnight or longer or a Mental Health Institute. They are being told things they do not really have to believe about themselves. It is so simple. hi, I'm dreaming of a wave flexor on the heavier side of the spectrum. It is a natural course for me. I want time, it may not have been but I do not remember that time. I consume medicines Because there are people who consume medicine but are working through their dream states. a person who is psychotic is actually just a heavy Dreamer. I think that is very aptly put. Remember that I said energy fluxes. you know how this works when you enter a room and intuitively read it.

The times intuition comes up for a psychotic person is hard to get numbers on. It Is frequent and it messes with other people's realities. We have made some common ground from the non-psychotic side. They take care of psychotics in mental health Institutes and see as much

Common Ground as they can Buster. but more scientific Inquisition may help us as well as a base knowledge knowing that these people are just in dream states. but there are people who are working on their dream states and taking medicine and that is hopeful that one day more common ground will be made. For more people that are struggling with finding common ground because of what they've been told and talked about."

Note from the Author:

I do not know the name of the angel or deity or E.T. I am currently working with. In the past I have made contracts with angels. I am not sure about E.T. conversations in a 100% contractual way. I am not that sure that deity is the right word for the contract I made with a certain force because I don't know the name. I usually just remember the experiences and I have many. I will write more to you to share what has been shared with me. 😊
